

The Rise Of The New Nazi Order

Version 1

1st May 2022

When people talk about the rise of the right wing, what they mean is racist groups.

In my opinion, the Nazi ideology collapsed around 1945, where many of the followers gave up on the belief.

It is worth remembering that the Nazi party were Socialist (National Socialist German Workers' Party).

Since then, most people who claim to adopt Nazi ideology, often (if ever) follow or know of anything about the German Nazi party. Most just use the Swastika as a badge of hate.

But one must note that the Nazi look, has become fetishised for many. So we have a lot who love the look of the uniform, or aspects of it, and have adopted it in there culture. And it is a sexy outfit.

Others will claim to be a Nazi, just to wind others up. A method to rebel.

Hitler himself, has been made the anti hero. If you want to wind many up, you claim Hitler was great.

However in recent years, comes a new Nazi order, and again it is from some who are left wing socialist.

As with those of Nazi Germany, they believe in violence in the same way, the brown shirts did. Smashing up building, spray painting, pulling down statues, scaring people, acting like thugs.

Indeed around 2001 we had many adopting a new Nazi salute, but holding the hand flat, rather than making a fist. Many would also adopt a kneel pose to show full compliance.

For the last few years, these modern Nazis would contact peoples work to get them sacked if they had not gone along with what they were told they must do. If you did not claim to believe what they told you to believe, then you were to be punished. The same way the Nazi's would smash up shops, and bully people into following them.

Like those in the Nazi party, they too believe in silencing people. They believe fully in the fact they are correct and others need to be silenced. Smug self-righteous bullies who tend to be mainly white middle class.

Like the Nazis before them, they believe books and films need to be removed, censored or rewritten.

Like the Nazis, they rewrite history, and produce films and TV shows with huge hysterical changes in order to feed people propaganda.

It used to be that the left wing welcomed the arts and freedom of speech. It once was a left ideology that art should be free. But over the last few years this has switched to believing everything needs to be censored and controlled.

Today, we openly have a new Nazi order. One that follows almost everything that the German Nazi party did.

What we do not yet have is a modern day Hitler to lead these people into power. It is just a question of when and who and in what country, this new leader will rise, and if he or she has the charisma to go forth and bring in a new history of terror.
